Summary of reasons for decision:

The moving image file falls under the criteria of s3(2)(a) of the Films, Videos, and Publications Classification Act and is deemed to be objectionable. It is a blatant depiction of the sexual abuse of a young teenage girl presenting her in forms of sexualised behaviour that strongly suggests she ready and available for participating in adult forms of sexual activity.

This material is clearly intended to encourage viewers to consider young teenage girls as sexual objects who are available for the sexual gratification of adults. The file encourages viewers to pursue this sexual interest and gives credence to ideas that young people are viable potential sexual partners for adults. The material has a twofold purpose: the sexual arousal and gratification of men, and the grooming of young teenage girls for sexual use.

The Classification Office has considered the effects of the New Zealand Bill of Rights Act on the application of the classification criteria. The classification of this publication interferes with freedom of expression, but this is an outcome that is consistent with Parliament's intention that publications falling under s3(2) are deemed to be objectionable. The classification is also a reasonable limitation on the freedom of expression that reflects the concern of a free and democratic society to limit the availability of publications that promote and encourage the exploitation of young persons for sexual purposes.
